DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed October 15, 2002 fails to comply with 37 CFR § 1.98(a)(1) because there is no attached PTO-1449 or the equivalent anywhere in the file. Also, most of the references are not dated, there is no publisher listed for any of them, and none of the relevant information required by 37 CFR § 1.98(b)(5) has been supplied. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5, 11, 22-27, 29, 30, 31, and 33-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Welvaarts (EP 0744598 A1). Welvaarts discloses a load cell block (2) that has an end pad (1E: "stud") which is inserted into a mount (8) which has an internal liner (10). Exactly whether the relative term "more lustrous" is actually limiting in a patentable sense is debatable, but nonetheless, the examiner notes that plastic material would appear to have a lower coefficient of friction than ceramic or steel depending on the type of surface treatment or finish applied to the load cell block.

4. Claims 1, 3-7, 9, 11-14, 16-20, 22, 24-27, 29-31, 33-35, 38-43, 45-47, and 49-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stafford et al (US # 5,859,390). Stafford et al discloses a load cell block (20) that has a stud (53) which is inserted into a mount (44) which has a resilient liner (48).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 12-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carruth et al (US # 4,874,692) in view of Welvaarts (EP 0744598 A1). Carruth et al disclose the claimed invention (Fig. 3) except that their load cell is mounted slightly differently between the two hospital bed frames than the load cell as claimed. However, the mounting of a load cell between two frames in the manner claimed is shown by Welvaarts. It would have been obvious to the ordinary practitioner to mount the load cell of Carruth et al in the manner specified by Welvaarts based on its known suitability for its intended use. See Ryco, Inc. v. Ag-Bag Corp., 857 F.2d 1418, 8 USPQ2d 1323 (Fed. Cir. 1988); and, MPEP § 2144.07.

Conclusion

7. Claims 6-8, 10, 21, 28, and 32 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
